

PAUL BERGIGNAT

Born in 1954, near Lyon, Paul Bergignat now lives in the Cevennes in France.

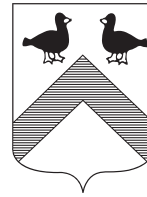

He paints silent mysterious landscapes with an unreal quality, which often suggest solitude and the loss of points of reference.

The tones appear timeless; nature is not hostile, despite the darkness of the paintings. Paul evokes the inner self to create an universal terra incognita.

By following different byways, he imagines new horizons, seeking to generate an emotion, to grasp what the world has lost: its origins.
